NEWPSY is an international educational eLearning platform for Russian-speaking psychologists, psychotherapists, psychiatrists and social workers. NEWPSY is an authorised distributor of self-study courses and Psychotherapy.net videos translated into Russian worldwide. The NEWPSY Continuing Education System is a voluntary system for evaluating professional post-graduate education of mental health professionals. NEWPSY is not an authorized training evaluation provider. You cannot use NEWPSY CE credits for getting licensed in your country. The NEWPSY Continuing Education Assessment System is based on the Continuing Education Assessment System of the US professional associations and boards. The continuing education credits and CE tests for obtaining aforementioned credits are developed by Psychotherapy.net, an organization approved by professional associations and boards in the United States to sponsor continuing education for psychologists, psychotherapists, psychiatrists and social workers.
